Senators Underwood, Simmons, Chilton and other democratic congressional callers congratulated the President on his adress to Congress, Senator Underwood coing to the White House for no other purpose. "The message suited me," declared the Alabamian.

Senator Chilton, who has steadily maintained that Rosevelt would be the nominee of the republican national convention, reiterated his views today.

Receives Brooklyn Delegation.

The President consulted Postmaster General Burleson about the fights over the New York and Brooklyn postmasterships, New York and Brooklyn postmasterships, and a few minutes later received a delegation of the democratic members of the House from Brooklyn, who continue to urge the selection of P. J. Cleary, now assistant postmaster, for postmaster of that city. Mr. Burleson has declared that Cleary, "for departmental reasons," cannot have the Brooklyn post office. Representative Fitzgerald has favored Cleary, but if the President refuses to name the assistant postmaster, he will ask for the nomination of Walter C. Burton, temporary postmaster.

Richard Clubb Endures Ten Lashes, on Bare Back Without Making a Sound.

ROCKVILLE. Md., December 8.—
Richard Clubb, a white man living at Woodmont, in the southern part of the county, was today sentenced to receive ten lashes on the bare back for wife-beating. The sentence was carried out in the jall yard here in the presence of several witnesses, Sheriff Whalen wielding the whip, a heavy wagon whip of the kind known as "blacksnake."

According to the evidence presented before Judge Mace in police court today, Clubb created a disturbance at his home last night, striking his wife and terrifying her to such an extent that she took refuge at the home of a neighbor. From there Deputy Sheriff Peakes was summoned and placed Clubb under arrest, taking him to the jail here.

Bills Will Be Introduced in Congress in Accordance With President Wilson's Suggestions.

President Wilson's suggestion to Congress yesterday for a commission to investigate railroad conditions and legislation will be embodied in hills which will be introduced in Congress in the near future and pushed by ad-ministration leaders. Senator Underwood, who first mentioned the subject to the President, conferred with him regarding it today, and said that he will introduce a bill providing for the city at ommission if somebody else does not do it.

Senator Underwood said, after seeing the President today, that he believed the rate-making powers of the interstate commerce commission should be broadened and steps taken to protect the railroads from conflicting state and federal legislation.

The plan was praised today by a committee of the Railway Business Association, including George A. Post of New York, president of the organization, and H. H. Westinghouse, president of the Westinghouse Airbrake Atheneum-Songs and Dances Also Features.

A Spanish comedy, "Zaragueta," was presented last night at Rauscher's to a large and appreciative audience by members of the Spanish - American Atheneum. Native songs and dances made up a part of the entertainment. Mrs. Rosario Munoz de Morrison, a native of Seville, Spain, widow of Prof. Frederick Morrison, formerly of the department of languages at the Naval Academy, directed the performance, while William J. Kavanagh of the Department of State coached the players. Mrs. Morrison had the role of the lovable heroine, Maruja, the sweetheart cousin of the spendthrift Carlos.

A full synopsis in English was given before each act by Mrs. Jennie O. Berliner, secretary of the Atheneum. The scene of the play was laid in a small town in northern Spain. Mrs. Edith B Newman presented Dona Dolores, wife of a wealthy farmer, while Marcos F Finley, treasurer of the Atheneum, was the farmer, Don Indolecto.

AGAIN URGES CONGRESS TO BUILD NEW BRIDGE

Gen. Kingman Calls Attention to Insecure Condition of Aqueduct Structure.

Gen. Kingman, chief of engineers, again has called the attention of Congress to the necessity for building a new bridge to replace the old and insecure Aqueduct bridge across the Potonac river, between Georgetown and Rosslyn. In his report he says that while the present diver's method of repairing the piers of the old bridge may prolong their life to a certain exmethod will be impracticable even for temporary repairs. He says it is conwork as may be found necessary.

"It has been evident for a number of years that the method of repairing the bridge," says Gen. Kingman, "is unsatisfactory, and that sooner or later serious injury may occur to the old plers, necessitating the stopping of traffic over the bridge.

The prosent Congress will take favorable action on our amendment."

Wider Structure Is Needed.

"No matter how carefully the diver may work, his inability to see the pier always leaves a feeling of uncertainty as to whether all defects have been discovered. The five old piers should either be rebuilt or the bridge be entirely replaced by a wider and stronger structure, adequate to accommodate the increasing traffic. To rebuild the piers would render the substructure safe, but would not provide additional facilities. A new bridge is needed and the necessary preliminary steps should be constituted.
